A NEW WAY OF LEARNING

This 4-week live-in course uses an integral perspective in analyzing the state of the planet. It combines place-based solutions and practical application in solving climate change adaptation challenges. Focus is given to weaving the fabric of community. Group decision-making, communication and conflict resolution skills are used all throughout the course. Emphasis is on developing ECOVILLAGE design skills for start-up and retrofit in urban and rural neighborhoods. The medium of instruction is in English. Limited to 20 people only.
